Discussion Topics

1. Enquiry after an online-list of important women philosophers (A.S. u.a.)
2. Proposal of a joint conception of educational text books (J.L./S.E./S.H./)
3. J.L. introduces her project „Philosophy goes Mooc” and reports the results of the courses on online teaching at Uni Paderborn
4. Suggestion to develop a strategy paper on how women philosophers can be included in class (S.E.)
5. The international community of young scholars reports the severe harassment women philosophers face in their everyday life (K.P.)
6. The European tradition of women philosophers is to be strengthened by including philosophers from Italy, France and other European countries; the tradition of women philosophers beyond Europe shall also be taken into consideration (R.H., M.B.W.)
7. The young international scholars ask for a shared forum that can be used to support each other in their research (A.R., K.P., N.S.)
8. It is suggested to open the group as an international co-operation partner to make it visible for European and international research
9. Suggestion to add topics of the intersexual, anti-racist discussion (R.P.)

Frauen in der Geschichte der Philosophie

10. Digitalisation is an important future concern for data security on women philosophers: RH refers to an event on digitalisation that has been announced for July. A separate initiative shall be restarted to make this important area public. Support for this endeavour greatly sought after (25.7.2018, 10.30-13.30).

Results

1. the Head of the work group announces that a list of women philosophers will be put online to provide easier access to women philosophers
2. A link for foreign researchers will be installed
3. The conference on „Philosophinnen in der Schule und im Studium/ Teaching Women Philosophers“ will be postponed to 2019 to enable a higher level of participation. The conference aims to establish a basis for a text book on women philosophers. It is further resolved to promote the project on online teaching.
The work group will be supported in this by:
Sabrina Ebbersmeyer/ Julia Lerijs/Rodney Parker/Sarah Hutton/
4. The work group proposes to organize a conference on the systematic access to the history of women philosophers.
The work group will be supported in this by:
Rodney Parker/Sarah Hutton/u.a.
